WANDER MANAGEMENT SOLUTION

ALLOW FREEDOM AND MOBILITY
Without Sacrificing Security

Every resident needs to be safe, secure, and well cared for. How can facilities take their security and care to the next level? By using advanced technology that gives nurses the flexibility they need to provide seamless care to residents while keeping your communities protected zones intact—ensuring that safety is never compromised. With caring nurses, attentive staff, and advanced security technology, your residents are in the best of hands.

- ☑ 60% of people with dementia/alzheimer's will wander

- ☑ The average out of court wandering settlement is over $400,000

- ☑ Immediate Jeopardy (IJ) elopement events can cost your community up to $10,000/day per occurrence

Seamless care and uninterrupted security
There are many nuances and details when it comes to providing the proper care for residents with exit seeking behaviors. But health and safety will always be of utmost importance.

Unfortunately, incidents can still occur, and wandering residents are still a very real threat. The right balance of security and accessibility will give your residents both the freedom and care that they need.

What is available for your facility?

You want your community to be a safe and positive environment for residents. With technology, you get peace-of-mind, safety, and flexibility. What technology is new to the market?

- ○ Stand alone systems that won't go down even if your network does
- ○ Waterproof tags that allow residents to be bathed without fear of condensation issues and them not working properly.
- ○ Handheld tag testers that allow you to discreetly test tag battery and obtain exact percentage
- ○ LED on tag provides discrete visual indication that the tag is working

THE TAG identifies each resident as they approach a transfer point (whether it's a door, elevator, or stairway). Make sure your tag is reliable, small, easy to clean, and waterproof.

DOOR CONTROLLERS will respond to each resident's band. If the system is bypassed by staff the doors will open. Otherwise the doors will lock (if applicable) or an alarm will be created as the resident passes through the zone.

INTEGRATION of your nurse call station and wander management solution should be seamless and make your life easier, not more difficult.

Give your residents more freedom and allow nurses more flexibility—all while keeping everyone safe and comfortable.
